

Wedding Band Matchmaker - Build Feedback

First live-build review. Looks great overall; a few blockers to fix before launch, then copy and confirmations.

Blockers - need fixing before launch

1. Q1 → Q2 all-day path is broken

Q1 offers “A mix of the two” but Q2 only offers Daytime or Evening party - there's no all-day route, so an all-day couple can't get the two-band recommendation. Fix: add an “All day” option at Q2, and have it run the daytime questions first, then the evening questions, returning one daytime band and one evening band.

2. Partner-name capture isn't firing

On Q7 (partner's music taste) the name field doesn't appear on any option. It should fire on every answer, so we always capture the partner's name for personalisation - not just the non-identical ones.

Copy fixes

Q8 title - banned word

Was: How far off is the big day?

Now: How far off is the wedding?

(Only swap the literal “big day.”)

Daytime Q3 - atmosphere options

Was: Sophisticated and classy, effortlessly chic

Now: Sophisticated and classy

Was: Relaxed and elegant, a beautiful backdrop while everyone eats

Now: Relaxed and elegant

Was: Full, fun energy from the off

Now: Fun and lively from the start

(“Full, fun energy from the off” reads awkwardly — smoother above, and still clearly the higher-energy daytime option.)

Evening Q5 — atmosphere, not music style

Was: High energy but edgier, indie anthems that move the room

Now: High energy with a bit more edge and attitude

Q5 is about atmosphere, not music style — “indie anthems” names a genre, which belongs in the song question, not here. Keep it about the feeling.

Confirmation-page box - rewrite

The current box is good but a bit functional. Add a light touch of who Boujee is and why it's a different choice - one or two sentences, not a full backstory, so the reveal keeps moving toward the booking CTA.

Was: These bands are exclusive to Boujee, you won't find them anywhere else. No dead air between sets. A playlist built to keep the momentum of your day going. We liaise directly with your venue on logistics and timings, the whole day handled, not just a band that turns up.

Now: These bands are exclusive to Boujee - you won't find them anywhere else. Boujee was built by Tim and Lizzie, professional musicians who got tired of how the industry worked and created their own acts from scratch: the best of both worlds between booking a band direct and going through a faceless agency. We handle the whole day, not just the set - liaising with your venue on timings and logistics, backed by award-winning planning support.

If that's slightly long for the space, the trimmable version drops the awards line and keeps story + best-of-both + “whole day handled.” Flag and I'll cut it down.

“What happens next” - add a photo of Tim

This section is first person (“talk me through your day... I'll walk you through the band”) but there's no face to it. Add a photo of Tim (or one with Lizzie) so the “me” has a person attached - it makes the call feel like a real conversation with a named human, not a form. (This Tim & Lizzie relaxed-garden shot would work)

Before launch - please test the other four results

Once the all-day path is added, I'll do more extensive testing on the routing and how the match percentage is influenced by the song choices to make sure I'm happy with how it feels.
